

City sells bonds

Because of the soundness of its financial standing, the City was able to secure an even lower interest rate than it was forecasting when it sold the bonds voters approved in last May's election.

The City's interest rate with TriMet on its $4 million light rail construction debt was at 5%, but with the 2.86% True Interest Cost the City locked-in last month, the City will save $587,000 over the 20-year life of the bond.

In addition to bettering the 5% interest rate of the TriMet obligation, with selling these bonds the City will pay off TriMet and alleviate the pressure of making these payments from the City's General Fund.

Thanks again to the Milwaukie voters for approving the selling of these bonds.

Almost 7K for K-9's

With almost 70 walkers, various donors and sponsors, and dozens paying for a chance to sink Police Chief Bartol and Officer Billy Wells in the dunk tank, almost $7,000 was raised at the 9K for K9 event held August 19th for Milwaukie's K9 unit.

The event grows each year. This year's festivities included music, a martial arts display, a

Honoring the fallen

It's official - with the signing of the contract between the City and Vietnam Combat Veterans, Ltd. last month, The Moving Wall - a traveling replica of the Vietnam Memorial Wall in Washington DC - will come to the grounds of Milwaukie High School next summer between August 23rd and August 26th, 2015.

In April 2013 the City and Milwaukie Legion Post #180 entered a partnership to join the nationwide Department of Defense's Vietnam 50th Commemoration program, which stipulates the City and Legion organize two commemorative events a year for the next three years. Hosting The Moving Wall next year will be the first major event.

Thousands are expected to visit the monument to pay homage, and Jerry Craig of the Legion, community members, and City staff have been meeting since last spring to plan the event, and are putting a call out for volunteers to help create an experience that honors those from Milwaukie and the nation whose names are on the monument.

Those interested in helping plan for the event, staff the event, or make a donation to fund the effort, are encouraged to contact Jerry by phone at 503-723-9988, or email linda@hammy.org.

Explore the universe with NASA consultant

Glimpse into our mysterious universe at "Astronomy for Everyone: Size & Scale of the Universe," a family program for all ages.

Learn about the size and scale of the universe with Kevin Manning, a retired astrophysicist and former NASA consultant on Wednesday, August 21st from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the Pond House.

During the nearly hour-and-a-half-long program, which is part of the library's free event series "Summer Days and Nights," Manning will give a PowerPoint presentation, showing video footage of cosmic occurrences. Then, if weather permits, attendees will be able to peer through his powerful 200-millimeter, eight-inch-diameter-mirror reflector telescope, which he says gathers 500 times more light than the unaided eye.

Time to prioritize walkability

This month's Councilor Column is written by Councilor Mark Gamba. To contact Mark, call 503-786-7514 or email gambam@MilwaukieOregon.gov.

There is nothing quite like a pleasant stroll from your home and through your Neighborhood.

Whether you have a destination in mind like a park, or the grocery store, or you are just out enjoying the weather and connecting with your neighbors, nothing makes a community more livable than the ability to walk safely through its streets. As a child I was prone to wander and explore, first on foot and later on my bike. To this day it is one of my greatest pleasures.

In many parts of Milwaukie, that lovely and simple desire is, at best, uncomfortable, and at worst, downright dangerous. Most people you talk to would agree with this and most City Councilors through the years have espoused the importance of sidewalks on busy streets. Our Transportation System Plan has a long list of desperately needed sidewalk infrastructure, and yet we do not prioritize the actual building of sidewalks. "It's too expensive" we are told, "The City can't afford it." On the surface, leaving everything else exactly the same, they are right. The City runs a very tight ship financially. The question is: What are our priorities? If we truly believe that a walkable City is a more livable, vibrant, happy City, then we need to put our money where our mouth is.

Nowhere are safe streets more important than around our schools. A small group of proactive citizens have begun working with the schools to prioritize the needed infrastructure that would allow kids to walk and bike to school safely. If you would like to be involved, please contact me.

The next and most crucial step is for the City to prioritize the funds necessary to start the process of making our entire City safe and comfortable to walk through.

Buckle up for belt blitz

With the support of state grant money Milwaukie Police will be sending out extra traffic patrols from Aug. 25th thru Sept. 7th, to tighten up seat-belt and child safety seat compliance.

Milwaukie Officers will target roadways where unbuckled accidents result in the most harm - McLoughlin Boulevard, Highway 224, Lake Road and other arterials.

Statewide crash fatality and injury rates have dropped 54% and 24% respectively since passage of the adult belt law in 1990. The law, combined with active enforcement, has resulted in a 2013 Oregon belt use rate of 98% for all occupants, placing Oregon among the top two belt-use states in the U.S.

Over one hundred city, county and state police agencies utilized safety belt overtime grants in 2013.

City Hall kiosk unveiled

Thanks to the efforts of community members Mary Weick and Linda Hedges, and the funding partners of Johnson Controls, the Milwaukie Rotary Club, Celebrate Milwaukie Inc. and Bob's Red Mill, the City unveiled its new information kiosk outside City Hall on July 11th.

Mary and Linda championed the idea to establish a place where residents could go in times of an emergency to gather response information.

The kiosk will also display information about community events, City programs and sustainability information.

BE PREPARED

Many in Oregon are experiencing the ferocity of forest fires. Here are a few reminders for the city-dweller on fire safety.

Use baking soda, smother with a tight lid or use a fire extinguisher to put out a grease fire - never use water; be sure you have smoke alarms in bedrooms and on each level of your home; be sure to test the smoke alarms monthly and replace the alarm every 10 years.

Create a "home escape plan" from each room, know where you'll meet up and PRACTICE THIS PLAN with your family. Keep cool.

In the Works | Project Updates from Engineering Department

Phase II Milwaukie Riverfront Park Construction

The in-water work to remove the old boat ramp, pilings and vegetation is on-schedule and the old parking areas have been ground down into material that will be used in the new parking areas called for as part of Phase II construction. The site is now being regraded and will be reseeded. In August the park's new entrance and parking areas at the south end of the site will be constructed in order to shift workers to the Washington Street exit at the end of the month.

17th Avenue Multiuse Path

Design on the multiuse path that will link the Trolley Trail with the Springwater Corridor is underway and the project team is meeting with nearby property owners such as Waverly Golf Club and the Milwaukie Pioneer Cemetery to make sure they are informed and their concerns are resolved as design is finalized. The project will create an at-grade travel lane for bikes and pedestrians on 17th Avenue between Harrison and the Springwater Corridor. The target is to complete the design by the end of the year.

Monroe Street Waterline Replacement and Repaving

With the installation of 1,400 feet of new, more earthquake resistant, longer-lasting ductile iron waterline pipe between Main Street and 28th Avenue wrapping up in early August, Monroe Street, between McLoughlin and Oak Street, will then be reconstructed. After construction, the roadway will be restriped temporarily.

MPD carries the torch

Milwaukie Police Officer Clare Burnum carried the torch, literally and figuratively, for the City's Police Force on August 7th as part of the Clackamas County Law Enforcement Torch Run for Special Olympics.

Special Olympics Oregon offers training and competition opportunities in 14 different Olympic-style sports. There are three sports seasons throughout the year, with statewide competitions and training in winter, summer and fall.

Special Olympics Oregon holds events in every region of the state, every month of the year, providing athletes the opportunity to compete and train as often as they choose. To learn more, or to donate, visit www.soor.org.

County offers grants

Last year successful community events such as the Milwaukie Festival of Short Film, the Davis Graveyard and the Farmers' Market all received grant monies made available by Clackamas County through its Community Partnership Program.

The agency is granting money for 2014-2015, so if you have an idea for an event or program that will bring folks to Milwaukie, it might be eligible to receive some funding to get the idea off the ground. For more information, visit the City's website, or call 503-786-7503.

Climbing artifacts on display

Written by Greg Hemer, member of the Milwaukie Historical Society

Upstairs at 3737 SE Adams St. in the Milwaukie Museum you will find a display of rock climbing gear from the early 1970's. This is no ordinary set of climbing gear though. The gear was used by Dean Caldwell, a Milwaukie High School graduate to climb The Wall of Morning Glory or Dawn Wall, a face of El Capitan in Yosemite National Park, for the very first time.

The climb was not easy. According to the book, Climbing in North America by Chris Jones, Caldwell and Warren Harding started in early October, choosing a different line from those taken on earlier attempts. With 300 lbs. of gear they took 12 days to reach the level of the previous attempted climbs. A four-day storm forced them to cling on the rock face in their "bat tents."

After 20 days, 1,000 feet was left to reach the summit. No one had stayed on a climb this long. The Park Service sent out a helicopter rescue party, only to be told by Caldwell and Harding, "the rescue is unwanted, unwarranted, and will not be accepted." On the 27th day the climbers pulled themselves over the rim to a slew of television cameras. The climb was hailed as the greatest climb since Mt. Everest.

For more interesting, exciting, and adventurous Milwaukie-related stories, please visit the Museum on Saturdays or Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m., like us on Facebook, or join the Milwaukie Historical Society. With membership we will preserve the past for future generations.

The City Code Corner

Written by Tim Salyers, Code Compliance Coordinator

Our Street and Storm Departments have collaborated with the Code Enforcement Department to create a new brochure directed to help you better understand what maintenance you are required to do to keep people safe and keep the City's infrastructure safe.

Keeping the public right-of-way clear of obstructions is important for vehicle traffic and also required maintenance of the streets. Soon you may be getting a brochure left at your door by our Public Works Department as a friendly reminder that your vegetation needs to be trimmed away from a stop sign or notifying you your basketball hoop can't be left in the street. If you have any questions about the brochure or the code give me a call at 503-786-7409.

The Chief's Corner

Written by Steve Bartol, Police Chief

Left to their own, some kids can end up in circumstances where they are forced to make tough calls related to alcohol, drugs or other criminal matters.

Healthy parent involvement can help reduce these issues. Be familiar with Oregon Curfew Laws, and laws related to minors in possession of alcohol. Remember also that providing alcohol to minors or a place to consume alcohol is also illegal. Before parting ways with your child for the evening make sure you know their plans. Talk to them about alcohol and drug use and discuss safety plans in case they end up in a bad situation and need an exit plan.

For more tips, visit National Institute for Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism website.

Moving Forward Milwaukie

For several months the project team has been meeting with the Advisory Committee, Planning Commission, and City Council to draft and finalize the Action and Implementation Plan (AIP) for downtown and central Milwaukie. Council is tentatively scheduled to adopt the AIP on August 19th. In the meantime, work has begun on a package of plan and code amendments for downtown and a land use and transportation plan for central Milwaukie. The Advisory Committee will discuss draft downtown code amendments and a land use concept for Central Milwaukie on August 13. The project will kick off in early September with the first meeting of the Project Advisory Committee (PAC), comprised of local stakeholders and technical advisors. The project will include at least two open workshops where stakeholder input and design elements will be discussed as part of creating the plan for future improvements on Monroe Street. Those interested are encouraged to contact Associate Planner Brett Kelter at 503-786-7657 or kelterb@milwaukieoregon.gov.

LEWELLING

NO REGULAR MEETINGS THROUGH SUMMER

WRITTEN BY BRYAN TROTTER, CHAIR

Just recently I was enjoying that part of the evening when the temperatures begin to drop, the sounds of summer abound, and the colors of the sky from the setting sun entertain. I was also so lucky to be sharing this time with some Lewelling neighbors on their back porch while we grilled and drank some local brew from Breakside Brewery. As our conversation bounced back and forth between music, gardening, work, dreams, and family I kept thinking about a concept I hear more and more about – the sharing (or collaborative) economy.

One definition of the sharing economy is “a socio-economic system built around the sharing of human and physical assets.” Not really a new model at all but the current twist seeks to leverage information technology to empower the sharing economy.

While my friends shared dinner with me (and I in return shared my growler) it made me really ponder the possibilities and realize that there are so many ways to strengthen our community via the sharing economy. It doesn't even take technology, just a chance to talk with your neighbors.

Come join your neighbors at Music in the Park next month and for our next meeting in September! If you cannot attend but want to have a voice, contact me at lewellingtrotter@outlook.com.

WRITTEN BY DION SHEPARD, CHAIR

At our August Neighborhood meeting, Reliable Credit provided an overview of their proposal to add employee parking which would require demolition of a building that houses several businesses on Main Street, between Scott Street and Harrison in Downtown. Businesses affected by this proposal include Wind Horse Coffee and Casa de Tamales.

The Neighborhood does not support the removal of the building on Main Street or the loss of businesses for another parking lot. We are asking the City to work with Reliable Credit to help find a solution to address their parking needs.

In the coming month, sign toppers will be installed throughout the Historic Milwaukie Neighborhood. The sign toppers feature the Lot Whitcomb steamboat, the first steamboat built on the Willamette River and an integral part of the early history of Milwaukie. The sign toppers were designed by Gabe Storm of PDX Designs and are awesome. For more information about Lot Whitcomb, the steamboat and Milwaukie's early days, visit the Milwaukie Museum.

Come to our NDA meeting on August 11th for updates on a number of projects in the neighborhood: the Adams Street Connector Project, the pedestrian bridge under the light rail bridge, the 17th Avenue pedestrian and bike path, and Riverfront Park. Steve Butler, Community Development Director, and Jason Rice, Engineering Director, will be at our meeting to discuss these projects.

This year the Neighborhood picnic will be held on Sept. 12th. We'll have additional details at the August meeting.

ISLAND STATION

NEXT MEETING INFORMATION:

AUGUST 20TH, 6:30 P.M. MILWAUKIE GRANGE

By KARIN POWER, CHAIR

Milwaukie is such a hubbub of terrific events in the summer, where to begin ... well, at least with the activity that's not happening in Island Station: the Spring Park Phase construction. At June's meeting, the North Clackamas Parks District joined us with the news that the path realignment and wetlands work would begin in Sept. 2014 and close the park. Unfortunately, due to permitting delays, that's been kicked out until 2015. On the bright side, we suppose, Milwaukie doesn't lose all Willamette riverfront access this summer!

Our August meeting united the Neighborhood around a series of pressing issues, however. Nearly a fifth of our NDA list came to talk about the recent road rage incident on 19th, speeding cars, and other Neighborhood impacts from dramatically increased park usage while Milwaukie Bay/Riverfront Park is closed. Chief Bartol has kept us apprised of the incident and thinking proactively about how to gather data on where and when people are racing down our streets. Our Neighborhood has also formed work groups to research traffic-calming options and others have led the way in teaching newer residents about park histories. Join us in August for reports back, and if you're not on our list, email isnda.secretary@gmail.com and we will add you on.

Our ISNDA PSAC rep and I had a great time walking the 9K for K9 on August 19th, as well. If you missed it, you can still donate online at www.milwaukiepsf.org/k9walk.html to support police dogs Shaka and Yago (and their human handlers' unit).

LAKE ROAD

NO REGULAR MEETINGS THROUGH SUMMER

By DEBBY PATTEN, CHAIR

Last month I walked in the 9K for K9 fundraiser for Milwaukie's K-9 unit and was reminded once again by what an amazing City we live in. Have I ever mentioned how being involved in the Neighborhood District Association (NDA) has introduced me to so many wonderful people who work for Milwaukie and so many awesome neighbors (I'm pretty sure I must have at least once over these twelve or so years I've been submitting these articles)?

Well, it was so cool to cruise over to Alberton's parking lot and see lots of people I know that I hadn't seen for awhile. Additionally, we had Police Officers, Cadets and Clackamas County Firefighters in attendance. Then our Police Chief got in the Dunk Tank. Where else, I ask you, would this happen?!

This type of thing is one of the (many!) fringe benefits you'll get from being involved with your NDA. You'll meet your neighbors, City staff, Council Members, Board Members, and business owners, too! Who would have thought you could have all this from just spending an hour and a half at a meeting once a month? And if you stepped up and took on a leadership role, you would meet even more people! Did I mention we need a Secretary?

So, if you're wondering how to meet new people and perhaps make some new friends, consider attending our meeting next month. You'll also get to learn more about the City you live in while dining on pizza! What could be better than that?!
