

School District accepts Waldorf's bid over City's

On August 16 the North Clackamas School Board accepted the Waldorf School's bid of $3.65 million to purchase the Milwaukie Jr. High and surrounding grounds.

The City of Milwaukie entered a bid of $3.2 million, and was the only other entity to submit a proposal. The City upped its bid in the last week leading up to the August 16 School Board meeting from the initial bid of $2 million after obtaining additional funding from Tri-Met and approving a loan from the City's Water Reserve Fund.

The City had hopes of purchasing the site and converting the buildings into a community center and transportation station while preserving the athletic fields and pool for community use. The City and School District had been negotiating the purchase of the site for the past three years, with offers ranging from $2.8 to $3.2 million.

As stated on its website at <http://www.awsna.org>, the Waldorf Education places heavy emphasis on arts and music and learning through imagination and imitation. There are more than 800 Waldorf schools in over 40 countries; more than 150 in North America.

Leaders of the Portland Waldorf School have vocalized a commitment to share the school building, playing fields and swimming pool with the community as long as such an arrangement did not interfere with daily classes.

The Waldorf School is planning to occupy the Milwaukie site in September of 2002. ☐

Grant for North Industrial study

In early August the Oregon Transportation & Growth Management program awarded the City of Milwaukie a grant of $100,000 to fund a land use and transportation study of the City's North Industrial area.

This study will be instrumental in developing a plan to attract tenants, and the jobs these tenants will bring, to this currently under utilized district of Milwaukie.

The proposed project is intended to:

- Protect the City's job-generating land base, while allowing the area to evolve and remain responsive to

Milwaukie's Local Leaders

ODS builds model partnership

Not long after ODS Health Plans purchased the old Pendleton Woolen Mills building Andrew Franklin, the corporation's Vice President of Operations, met with Historic Milwaukie Neighborhood Chair, Ed Zumwalt, at a local diner.

Over a cup of coffee Andrew unrolled the renovation plans for Ed's review, and at the next Neighborhood Association meeting, a half dozen ODS representatives addressed the Historic Milwaukie residents and fielded questions concerning issues such as traffic and the environmental impacts of Johnson Creek.

"You could tell (the ODS representatives) wanted to know our concerns, and you could tell they were really listening," Ed said.

Andrew says forging genuine partnerships with the local community is a part of the ODS culture.

"We wanted to build a good relationship with the Neighborhood Association because if we didn't do it right, we could run into some Neighbor problems," Andrew explained. "So we wanted to do it right not only for the sake of doing it right but because it was a sound business decision as well."

ODS provides insurance to over 600,000 Oregonians and their dependents through group and individual medical and dental plans.

The facility that resulted from the public's input and the work of the architects and designers is a beautiful facility. Maintaining the feel of the old industrial mill, the ODS facility stands as one of the City's most modern and architecturally interesting buildings. ☐

Council advances transit recommendations

At their August 20th Work Session the Council reviewed comments from the community that were shared during the July 26th Town Hall and the August 13th Open House.

After reviewing the information they discussed the options and made recommendations for what should be studied in the Environmental Impact Phase of the project.

The Planning Commission was scheduled to review the recommendations at their August 28th meeting. Their findings were not known at press time.

The community comments showed a clear preference for light rail over busway. The comments also showed that people preferred Bus Rapid Transit along Highway 224 as a means of extending transit service from the Harrison/224 area out to the Clackamas Town Center. The Council's recommendations were consistent with the preferences expressed by the Milwaukie Neighborhoods through their 14 Points.

In terms of next steps, the South Corridor Policy Group will meet on September 17th to give formal direction to the project staff, as to what will go forward for further study. It is expected that they will endorse the Milwaukie recommendations. The study will probably take 12 to 14 months to complete. As preliminary results of the environmental impact study become available throughout the process, there will be periodic community updates provided at your local Neighborhood meetings.

Light Rail Recommendation

The recommended alignment calls for a Tacoma St. station and Park & Ride, a Southgate station and regional transfer facility, a smaller station at the Junior High with reduced bus service, and a Lake Road & 21st terminus and Park & Ride. The Council felt that this alignment did the best job of serving the resident commuters while preserving neighborhood livability, serving the downtown businesses and customers, preserving access to the riverfront, encouraging redevelopment of the northern industrial area, and providing additional, evenly distributed parking at various points along the line. They also felt that this option showed the greatest promise in terms of future extensions to the east, west and south while creating the least impact to Milwaukie's natural and developed environment.

Busway

No preferred alignments: Community comments showed that people were concerned that busway, either above, at, or below grade, would be detrimental to Milwaukie's natural and built environment because of its impacts on area wetlands and several local businesses that would be displaced. The Council chose not to recommend any busway alignments.

Bus Rapid Transit

Community response indicated people preferred extensions to the east if a bus rapid transit system were implemented. The Council chose to recommend Bus Rapid Transit along Highway 224 through Milwaukie and beyond its borders from the Linwood/ Harmony area to the Clackamas Town Center via Harmony or 224, with no park & ride in the Linwood/Harmony area.

Milwaukie Neighborhood officers are serving as the local citizen advisory committee to the South Corridor Project. Organizations interested in receiving information about the study are encouraged to attend a Neighborhood meeting (see the back of this newsletter for meeting & contact info) or to call Michelle Gregory, Neighborhood Services Manager at (503) 786-7539. ☒

Those interested in viewing the alignments are encouraged to visit the Office of Neighborhood Services at City Hall.

City recognizes Drug & Alcohol Recovery Month

Milwaukie's City Council will join state and local governments from around the nation in passing a resolution observing September as National Drug and Alcohol Recovery Month.

The Recovery Month observance highlights the societal benefits of substance abuse treatment, lauds the contributions of treatment providers and promotes the message that recovery from substance abuse in all its forms is possible.

Recovery Month is an annual observance, which began in 1989, and is sponsored by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's Center for Substance Abuse Treatment (CSAT).

For more information about Recovery Month call the CSAT at (301) 443-5052 or get on-line and check the following web site <http://www.health.org/recoverymonth/2001/index.htm>

City class dates are set

Dates have been set for the very first Milwaukie City Government Education Series.

These classes are open to all Milwaukie citizens, City staff, and elected and appointed officials and are designed to educate and engage participants in the inner workings of their local government. If you're interested in learning about the City of Milwaukie and how it functions then these classes are for you! These classes are free, and many employers will honor a day off for such civic activities.

The first series will be two full days of classes with an invitation to attend a graduation ceremony at a City Council meeting. The classes will take place on Thursday, November 1, 2001 and Thursday, November 8, 2001. These dates are confirmed, but the times may change slightly once the individual presentations are scheduled.

If you've already signed up, we thank you for your interest and look forward to meeting you. If you have yet to sign up please contact Program Specialist Jason Wachs at (503) 786-7568 to do so. The class size will be limited and spots are filling up fast, so please call to reserve a space. ☒

Book groups for young and old

Read any good books lately? Want to tell other young teens about it?

Talk Back to Books is your chance to talk about books with other kids who like to read.

Beginning on Thursday, September 13 at 4:15 p.m., this new book group for youth will meet once a month at Ledding Library after school. At the first meeting the book group will choose which titles to read in October and November. Anyone age 10 and up is welcome to come and cast a vote!

The library hopes to start a rant and rave notebook of book reviews for the titles discussed. This will be a chance to give a thumbs-up recommendation or thumbs-down warning to other readers. And in case you need further incentive, the library will provide snacks.

After the initial September meeting, Talk Back to Books will meet on the third Thursday of every month: October 18, November 15, and December 13.

The library also has an adult book group that meets once a month in the evening.

The group of a dozen or so Ledding patrons meet in the latter part of every month, and for the month of September they'll be reading a book titled "Falling Leaves"

If you have any questions, feel free to call the Ledding Library at (503) 786-7580. ☒

Council eager to hear concerns of constituency

The Mayor and City Council want to hear what you have to say.

Whether it's face to face, over the phone or by e-mail, the Council wants to maintain open channels of communication with Milwaukie's citizenry.

Mayor James Bernard has established office hours to meet with residents between the hours of 4 and 5 p.m. the first Monday of every month, and will meet with residents by appointment.

Council also sets aside a half-hour before the first Work Session of the month to meet with citizens and discuss whatever's on their minds. And as is always the case, citizens can offer comment at the regularly scheduled meetings during the public comment portion of the meetings.

Council also has voice mail and e-mail accounts open at City Hall.

Grant Project of the Month

This month the Pilot is featuring a $1,000 Grant that was given to the Linwood Neighborhood Association to plant trees in Stanley Park.

The trees have not been planted yet, but it's hoped they will help increase the use of the park by residents and wildlife that live in the area. Many Linwood Neighborhood residents have already donated time to plan and prepare for this planting, but they could still use your help.

Their next meeting on September 27, 2001, 7 p.m. at Linwood Elementary is very important for the future of the Linwood Neighborhood Association. Residents will not only set a date and make the final preparations for this planting, but they will also elect new officers. So please attend, participate, and maybe even identify yourself as a candidate.

For questions about the Neighborhood Association or the tree planting please contact Edie Kerbaugh, Acting Chair, at (503) 653-8015. For other questions about the Grant Program or if you are unsure of what Neighborhood you live in call (503) 786-7568.

City looking for volunteers to serve advisory Boards & Commissions

Milwaukie's Advisory Boards and Commissions are vital components of your local government.

Composed entirely of city residents, these boards and commissions act as intermediaries between the Council and its citizens, and advise elected officials on issues such as the City's budget, library, streets and parks.

Most of the groups average one meeting per month, and prospective appointees are interviewed by City Council. There are currently vacancies on the following boards and commissions:

Citizen Utility Advisory Board – Provides input on utility rates and capital improvements.

Library Board – Assists with programs and plans for the Ledding Library

Park & Recreation Board – Helps improve the park and recreation services of the community

Planning Commission – Reviews matters of planning and zoning according to provisions of the City's Comprehensive Plan and Zoning Ordinance

Traffic Safety Board – Makes recommendations on transportation safety needs within the City

If you're interested in serving on one of these advisory groups, please call Milwaukie City Recorder Pat DuVal at (503) 786-7502. ☎

- Establish clear, modern land use and development regulations responsive to the emerging market for industrial development.
- Identify if existing transportation infrastructure can accommodate the redevelopment scenarios, and if not,

HISTORIC MILWAUKIE

Written by Ed Zumwalt, Chair

NEXT MEETING'S INFO:

When: September 13, 7 p.m.

Where: Milwaukie Elementary

(250 SE 27th Ave.)

On Thursday, August 16, 2001, the North Clackamas School District voted to accept the bid of the Portland Waldorf School to buy Milwaukie Jr. High for $3.65 million, one of the most destructive moves that could befall our City.

This beautiful school, deeply rooted in the hearts and history of our City, was ceded to the District by Milwaukie in 1971 as part of a consolidation, and in the thirty years since has been supported by our tax dollars.

This move by the District, although it may be legal, is at least immoral, unethical, unconscionable and a terrible blow to our community – another large governmental entity treating us with impunity and destroying many of our plans, hopes and dreams.

The District again proved that their allegiance is to the bottom line only – the almighty dollar. These supposed guardians of our youth are completely ignoring our desperate need in Milwaukie for a place for some of our less fortunate students to go after school – an oasis for them, an alternative to the streets.

One Board Member had the arrogance to say that accepting the bid was the best thing to do for all of the students of the district. I believe this means they are going to funnel the proceeds out of Milwaukie and into other areas, areas that already have community centers paid for by our tax dollars.

The school will now be used exclusively by children from out of the area – and whose parents have paid no tax money towards its maintenance.

The Waldorf people have no ties or allegiance to our community, and although they have made many grandiose promises, do not be surprised if in a few years we are scrambling for dollars to save the property from developers. After all, Waldorf is a private entity and can sell the property at any time.

To ensure peace in the community, Waldorf must withdraw its offer, the District must cancel the agreement with them, and the school must be offered to Milwaukie with negotiations to ensue.

The Neighborhood Night Out Party was a tremendous success!

New neighbors and longtime neighbors met for the very first time and the laid back setting gave old friends the opportunity to just catch up with one another's news.

Thanks to the Encore Brass Band for their outstanding performance, and the Brothers and Friends for their great dance music. A special THANKS! to Rick Farasy for his grilling skills, and to the Mischlers for all the behind the scenes preparation.

Remember, all of you are invited to the Island Station Neighborhood Association meetings on the 3rd Thursday of each month. Membership is free and refreshments are served.

The Spring Park Development Plan that was distributed at the Party will be the main topic for September. Neighborhood feedback on the plan is crucial before proceeding to the next step in developing the Park.

We are thrilled to have the PARB Historic Walk through our Neighborhood on September 9th and encourage all Milwaukie residents to take this stroll through our past. Two guided walks will be held, one beginning at 11 a.m., the other at 2 p.m. The walk will both start and end at Milwaukie's City Hall. For more information please call (503) 786-5148.

On this walk you'll get a glimpse of a way of life now only a dim memory and see first hand how we can celebrate nature in an urban environment.

Island Station Chair Rick Farasy mans the grill at the 2001 National Nite Out Neighborhood Barbecue, while Secretary Kathy Buss looks on in the background.

In conjunction with the Historic Walk, the Neighborhood will be organizing a Spring Park/Elk Rock Cleanup. The cleanup will begin at 11 a.m. For more information call Chair Rick Farasy at (503)786-2437.

NEXT MEETING'S INFO:

When: September 6, 7 p.m. Where: Lewelling Elementary

The days are getting shorter, all the newspapers are filled with ads for school kids apparel and the department store shelves are bulging to the brim with the kids latest school fashions. This is a good indicator our summer is quickly coming to an end. Hopefully everyone took advantage of the beautiful days of summer and are now prepared for the challenges that Fall and Winter will bring.

Things have really been humming around City Hall this summer with the Mayor, City Manager, City staff and representatives from the seven City Neighborhoods meeting with Metro, Tri-Met, County Commissioners and other stakeholders on the light-rail alignment through Milwaukie. In addition to this trying to put together a competitive package that might be acceptable to the North Clackamas School District for purchase of the Milwaukie Junior High has been a real challenge and unfortunately, to no avail.

On August 16 the school board made a final decision and put an end to the speculation over which bid they would accept. The Waldorf School will be the new owner of the Milwaukie Junior High in 90 days. Another perfect example where dollars become the deciding factor. What's best for our City and community becomes secondary.

Once again our summer picnic was a blazing success thanks to all of you who donated your time and energy. There was plenty of good food, prizes, games and a super jazz band for our musical entertainment.

If you didn't make it you really missed out! Special thanks to our Mayor and his wife, Siri, for joining us and taking part in the festivities.

Our next meeting will be Sept. 6, 7 p.m. in the Library at Seth Lewelling School. Guest speaker for the evening will be Renee Taylor who is associated with the new home for recovering mothers with children located at 48th Avenue and Logus Road. See you all at the meeting.

LAKE ROAD

Written by Teresa Bresaw, Co-Chair

NEXT MEETING'S INFO:

When: September 12, 7 p.m.

Where: Rowe Jr. High, (3606 SE Lake Rd.)

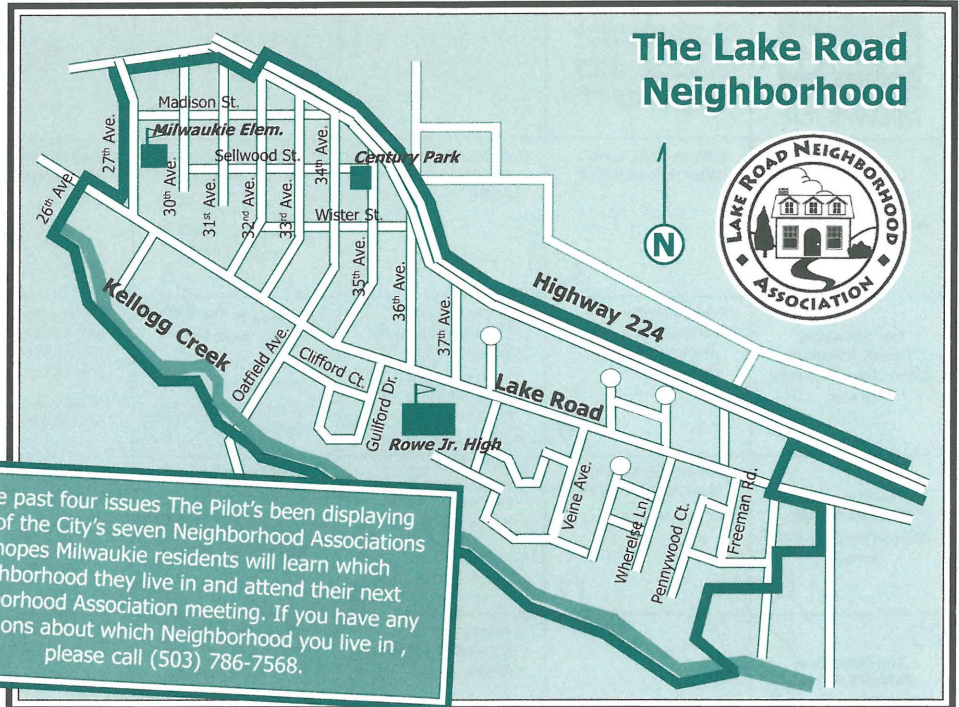

More than 75 Milwaukie and Lake Road residents enjoyed our Summer Barbecue of July 28 and I'd like to take this opportunity to thank some of the people that made it such a great event.

Susanna and Jane Pai entertained the younger ones with games and prizes and Ron Roppel did the shopping for the food. Ron Silverman worked along with him in cooking the sausages and hamburgers and thanks to Kathy Wilke, Forris Frick, Doug Winfield, Trista Roppel, Debby Patten, Rick Bantz, Glorie Totten, Diana Easley, and of course Rob Kappa for all their help. I personally appreciate all of their efforts.

Thanks also to the firemen and policemen who attended, and to Mayor Bernard and councilor Brian Newman for joining us.

The main purpose of the barbecue and our monthly meetings during the school year is to encourage citizen involvement in our local government. The city can't be as responsive unless there's constant communication between the citizens and its government. Your local government is only as good as the individuals working for the city, and that includes staff, councilors, mayor, and involved citizens.

Milwaukie High School Dance Team representatives will be at our next meeting to discuss ways to earn money by working for the Lake Road Neighborhood. One idea is to pull the ivy that is running rampant in certain areas. Ivy not only weakens and eventually destroys trees, but it attracts undesirable rodents.

Another big project the Neighborhood is planning is planting trees along Lake Road and Shell Lane next to Rowe Middle School. Research is under way for which trees to plant and where to obtain them.

If anyone out there has helpful information, please call me. We want to be sure to pick the most suitable trees.

This is where your Neighborhood Grant money is going and we could use your help.

NEXT MEETING'S INFO:

When: September 11, 6:30 p.m.

Where: Ardenwald Elementary

The summer is almost over and we will resume our regular meetings September 11th at Ardenwald Elementary.

In case you missed it in the Oregonian, our Summer Reading Program was featured in the Metro South Neighbors section and Sherri Campbell was quoted several times. It was a nice recognition for all of the hard work she has done over the past years, great job Sherri!

Our Neighborhood Night Out celebration on August 9th was a success. We had a good turnout for the concert at Ardenwald Park and passed out 7 of our 9 watermelons to the neighbors that attended. Thanks to everyone that helped us enjoy a wonderful summer evening in the Park.

The Milwaukie Providence Hospital is nearly complete and our slow point on 32nd Street has been constructed. If you have any comments regarding the size of the median, either call or come to our next meeting to discuss.

The community continues to work with our regional partners on issues such as transportation and the Milwaukie Middle School (awarded to Waldorf School). I implore you to get involved, our voice is being heard and together we can make a difference.

Neighborhood Officers Joe Campbell, and Peter Koonce and his wife Susan enjoy their Nite Out Celebration.
